One week to go: Apply to join our next cohort before it's too late!

Due to a strong response to our call, we plan to close applications entirely at the end of this week rather than moving to rolling reviews. To make sure everyone has a chance to apply, we are extending the application deadline to midnight PDT on Sunday, October 25th.

Acceptance into the program offers:

- A personal stipend, travel allowance, and health benefits for up to two years
- Lab space & technical collaboration support from Berkeley Lab experts and facilities
- Cyclotron Road programming and mentorship

All projects will be supported by Berkeley Lab through an arm's length agreement with pre-defined IP terms.

By the numbers: In less than one year, our first cohort...

- Has been awarded roughly $5 million in follow on funding
- Started experiments four weeks into the program
- Is collaborating with over 40 Berkeley Lab researchers and facilities
- Added 20 new team members across six projects
- Had over 500 interactions with leaders from industry, government, finance, and academia.

due at midnight PDT on Sunday, October 25th.
